

Since this law was enacted we are not longer bothered by people calling and trying to sell us unwanted products. We no longer have to turn our phone off and miss important calls in order to enjoy dinner. This is also a privacy issue. The only individuals/ companies who should have the right to call someone is when that individual has given them their phone number and permission to call. I shouldn't have to check caller ID before picking up the phone. Our phone # should not be public information.
